

January 28, 2016

Alan H. Matsumoto, M.D.
Professor of Radiology and Chair
Dept of Radiology
University of Virginia
Charlottesville, VA 22908

Dear Dr. Matsumoto:

On behalf of the Fleischner Society I wanted to let you know how thankful we are for the wonderful help provided by Alan Farr and Emily Guan in your department in redesigning our website. Not only did they demonstrate great expertise, but they were organized, efficient, timely and wonderful to work with. I am sure you are well aware of their talents, but I wanted to make sure you realized what a major contribution they have made to one of the premier radiological societies.

This new website will provide a much better public information resource to the world about thoracic radiological advances and it will help us as society members and executive committee members to be a stronger and more connected group. If you are interested, you can view it at www.fleischner.org. Please realize there is lots of functionality they put into the private parts of the website that you will not be able to see.

We are also greatly appreciative of Tally Altes and her providing financial support for this and for putting us in touch with Alan and Emily! I realize it is with regret that she has now left your department, but this would have never happened without her initiative and support.

If you have any further questions or would like to discuss this further, do not hesitate to contact me.

Best wishes!

Sincerely,

William D. Travis, M.D.
President, Fleischner Society